ALLEGED SLAYER HELD WITHOUT BOND AFTER PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

LEE STILL PROTESTS INNOCENCE OF FATAL SHOOTING OF SIMMS

Third Degree Fails To Shake Story—Record Is Investigated

Robert Lee, alias Frank Lee, alias Robert Smith, colored, 42, Monroe, Mich., was bound over to the grand jury without bond by R. O. Copey, justice of the peace, Saturday afternoon on a charge of murder in the first degree for the alleged shooting to death of Patrolman Charles Simms late Friday afternoon. Lee entered a plea of not guilty to the charge when arraigned.

Two witnesses were examined at the arraignment who are said to have witnessed the shooting, in order to establish the identity of the slayer. Earl Keyes, colored, 915 East Church Street, at whose home the shooting took place, testified he stood by Lee when he killed the officer with bullets. William Thomas, same address, aged colored man, also testified he witnessed the fatal shooting.

RECALL GRAND JURY

Common Pleas Judge R. L. Gowdy, at the request of Prosecutor J. Carl Marshall, Saturday called a special recess session of the grand jury to meet Thursday morning for consideration of the state's evidence in the case. Prosecutor Marshall made a special trip to Xenia Saturday from Russell Point, O., where he is spending a vacation, to be present at Lee's arraignment. He returned after the hearing.

Lee was given three more terrific grillings Saturday by authorities but refused to diverge from his original story that he is not the slayer, knows nothing of the shooting and was not even at the scene of the killing. He again told authorities he was headed for Cedarville Friday afternoon but failed to account for his flight in the direction of Dayton.

County Coroner R. L. Haines was unable to say Monday when an inquest into the Xenia policeman's death would be held. Prosecutor Marshall, who immediately returned to Russell Point after Lee's hearing, was expected to return to Xenia Monday. An inquest will probably be held before the grand jury meets Thursday.

HAD MANY NAMES

Examination of Lee's clothes Saturday brought to light, he was known in Columbus under the name of Robert Smith where he purchased a suit of clothes under that title. In other places he is known as Frank Lee, which authorities believe to be his real name. Lee also travels under the name of Robert Lee.

Lee was "mugged" and fingerprinted Saturday. His photographs and fingerprints are being sent to police of various cities where he is known to have stayed, in an effort to positively establish his identity and a possible criminal record.

Authorities believe Lee may have committed a serious crime in the past, and that fear of arrest by Simms on a more serious charge, prompted him to shoot the officer.

BROKEN WATER MAIN FLOODS SUBWAYS OF NEW YORK MONDAY

Traffic Halted In Fear Streets Weakened By Escaping Water

New York, July 13.—A broken water main at Fifth avenue and Forty Second Street early today flooded New York's subway system in that region and so alarmed police and engineering officials that they closed adjacent streets to all vehicular and pedestrian traffic.

The order to close the streets to traffic was given because of fears that the rushing water from a broken 20-inch main might have weakened the below the surface structure of side walks and skyscrapers.

Hundreds of workmen labored frantically during the early morning hours to pump out the underground tunnels so that service could be resumed in carrying the millions of New Yorkers to their daily work. They were partially successful, but thousands were delayed and widespread confusion resulted from the traffic tieup.

There were no trains operating this morning in the Steinway tunnel beneath East River and connecting Manhattan and Queens.

Many feet of water are standing in the basements of mercantile houses in the district. Meanwhile engineers located the broken main and repaired it.

HELD FOR MURDER

Robert Lee, 42, colored, Monroe, Mich., who also goes under the names of Frank Lee and Robert Smith, is held in County Jail without bond for the murder of Patrolman Charles Simms Friday afternoon. This picture was taken in the jail corridor after he had been subjected to a grilling by officers attempting to get a confession.

FIREWORKS BETWEEN LAWYERS EXPECTED AT TRIAL OF KIRBY

Fourth Case Against Former Financier Is On at Delaware

Delaware, Ohio, July 13.—Forensic fireworks between state and defense attorneys are anticipated when the fourth trial of Josiah Kirby, former head of the Cleveland Discount Company, opens before Common Pleas Judge Jewell here today.

A legal battle between Attorney General Crabbe and Luther Day, chief defense counsel, on the admission as evidence of depositions taken from stock salesmen who traded two shares of common stock for each share of preferred stock with Mrs. Grace Cooper, the principal witness against Kirby, will start proceedings. The depositions were taken in Nebraska while the jury in the last trial, which resulted in a disagreement by an 11 to 1 vote for acquittal, was deliberating. Should the motion be granted, a continuance until the witness can be produced will result.

A panel of 17 prospective jurors has been summoned and should this be exhausted as it probably will, Judge Jewell will call a special venire for the trial, which may be composed of leading citizens of Delaware.

The former head of what was the second largest mortgage company in the world, arrived here last night. He immediately went into conference with the Ben Jones, local attorney. "Thirty five out of thirty-six jurors in my three previous trials have declared me innocent and I have absolute confidence that 12 unprejudiced jurors of this community will do likewise, for I have never made a dishonest penny in my life," Kirby declared today.

Attorney General Crabbe and his assistant H. H. Griswold, were expected here early today.

BROTHER OFFICERS TO HELP BEAR SLAIN POLICEMAN TO GRAVE

Petition Circulated To Get Band—Police Trace Daughter

Funeral services for Patrolman Charles Simms, veteran policeman, who was shot to death late Friday afternoon, will be held at the Third Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock in charge of Damon Lodge, K. of P., and Spanish American War veterans.

As a final tribute to his brother officer and out of respect to his long years of service, members of the Xenia police force will march in a body in the funeral procession.

The Xenia policeman was the proud wearer of policeman's badge No. 1 at the time of his death and was a member of the force for fifteen years. Service in the U. S. cavalry during the Spanish-American War under Roosevelt enabled him to gain an enviable reputation as a fearless and popular policeman.

A petition was being circulated by Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin Monday for donation to obtain a Springfield band for the services Tuesday. The list was headed by City Manager S. O. Hale and contained donations from brother officers, county and city officials, all of whom express deepest regret at the passing of the officer.

According to tentative plans, representatives of the K. of P. Lodge, Spanish-American War veterans and policemen will act as pallbearers.

Police were asked to aid Sunday in locating the deceased officer's daughter, Miss Hallie Marie Simms, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who has not yet been advised of her father's death. A wire from her family to her last residence in Pittsburgh was returned unanswered. Chief of Police M. E. Graham communicated with Pittsburgh police Sunday and co-operation in locating the missing relative was promised.

INDUSTRIAL CRISIS IN ENGLAND MOVING TOWARD CLIMAX NOW

Rail Wkrs Demonstrate Carrying Placards To Urge Early Strike

London, July 13.—England's industrial crisis moved swiftly toward a climax today. While the differences between coal miners and operators assumed proportions indicating an international strike, with American miners asked to support British and Belgian workers in their demands, railroad workers threatened to rush into a walkout, regardless of negotiations.

"To hell with wage decreases. Let's strike now," reads placards carried by rail workers in a monster demonstration in Hyde Park.

A number of railroad men wearing the red rosettes of communism in their coats fought with British fascists in the Hyde Park demonstration against proposed wage cuts. Police were called to quell the battle.

At the same time the coal miners, supported by expressed sympathy of 5,000,000 trade unionists of Great Britain, stiffened their stand for wage increases and improved working conditions.

A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' Federation, declared the Belgian miners were prepared to strike with the British and unless the mine owners withdrew their unsatisfactory wage scale proposals, British miners will appeal to American unions to join them in a general mining strike.

offers to report the case and so did Bryan.

But both have under consideration several offers to tour as soon as the verdict is reached. Bryan's calls are from the south. Scopes' are from north of the Mason-Dixon boundary.

Scopes is scarcely an orator by nature. He speaks in a soft dulcet drawl, is shy and retiring, and is a better listener than he is a spellbinder. He fraternizes with the visiting newspapermen and sits for hours, after the copy is filed and the day is over, listening wide-eyed and close mouthed at the wonder tales of the great world, of which he has seen little except on his brief journey to New York.

Even the elder Scopes, his father, has been approached with a bid to travel and exhibit himself, somewhat as the father of Floyd Collins, the

LIMA GIRL KILLED; COMPANION HURT AS CAR IS SIDESWIPED

Motorist Flees—Man Killed In Railroad Yards At Lima

Lima, O., July 13.—Thrown to one side of the state highway near Indian Lake early this morning by a hit-skip motorist, a young Lima girl is dead and her companion seriously injured. The speeding motorist after forcing the death car into the ditch and against a telephone pole, did not stop.

Miss Betty Lehner, 19, was instantly killed and Earl Weger, 21, of Delphos, is lying in St. Rita's hospital in a serious condition.

In the machine were Walter Weger, 23, driver, of Delphos, and Miss Eleanor Sullivan, 20, of Lima, both of whom escaped without injury.

The party was returning from Russell's point when another machine swung around Weger, sideswiped his motor and threw it into the ditch against a telephone pole. Miss Lehner was thrown from the car, striking her head.

Lima, O., July 13.—One man, unidentified, is dead, and another man is dying in city hospital as the result of similar accidents on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad tracks yesterday.

The body of the unidentified man was found in the yards where he had apparently fallen asleep while leaning against a boxcar. In the process of switching it is thought that he was caught and pulled beneath the car wheels.

Ralph Davis, 27, employee of the John Robinson circus, residing in St. Louis, was probably fatally injured when he was caught in the journal box of a freight car and dragged along the tracks where the circus trains were unloading early this morning.

YOUTHS ARRESTED IN CLINTON COUNTY

Two youths who gave their names as Harold Ellison, 18, south of Xenia, and Charles Manor, 22, this city are being held by Wilmington authorities after being arrested Saturday in Clinton County, on a charge of chicken stealing.

Suspicion on the local pair was aroused when the two tried to dispose of some poultry in Sabina Saturday morning. Sheriff Will Smith, Clinton County, chased them over the county and finally found them near Villars Chapel, after the culprits' car had broken down.

Ellison has been held by Xenia police on previous charges of theft.

LAKE MICHIGAN NEAR TIDAL WAVE CLAIMS TWO; OTHERS SAVED

Drownings and Auto Accidents Result in Many Tragedies

Chicago, July 13.—Nine lives were the forfeit in this section today to the week end heat wave and more than a score were recovering from prostration.

Two were drowned in Lake Michigan and thousands of bathers were menaced by a miniature tidal wave which drove the waters up nearly nine feet late yesterday. One sloop was capsized and six persons rescued when they were near exhaustion.

Automobiles killed two others in the Chicago district and two succumbed to the heat.

At Bridgman, Michigan, J. Samuel Council, 36, South Bend, Ind., attorney gave his life to save Helen Covert, 25, a member of his bathing party. Neither could swim.

John Rowen, 9, son of a Cleveland business man, was drowned in Lake Oliver, Lagrange, Ind.

At Danville, Ill., one heat fatality was recorded among 20 prostrations.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 13.—Four drownings were the toll of Sunday here. Mrs. Sadie Shellow, 23, and James E. Basham, 35, were wading in the river at Warwood and went beyond their depth. Alexander McCutcheon, father of Mrs. Shellow went to their rescue and was seized by the couple and unable to break their death grip, all three were drowned. The bodies were recovered in a short time. Basham resided at Roanoke, Va., the other two at Warwood, a suburb of this city.

James Kelly, 26, was drowned while swimming and this morning divers were still seeking his body.

W. E. Dawson and Mrs. Stella Theodore, were rescued from the river, the former being seized with cramps while trying to swim the river.

Columbus, O., July 13.—Funeral arrangements were to be made here today for Delbert Hoff, 35, Columbus machinist, who was drowned yesterday when overcome either by cramps or exhaustion while bathing in Big Walnut Creek near Shadyside. Hoff was teaching Mrs. James Dubois, Columbus, how to swim when he sank. Mrs. Dubois, who also went down, was rescued by other members of the bathing party, but sheriff's deputies dragged the creek for two hours before they recovered Hoff's body.

PRESIDENT FACING GRAVE DIPLOMATIC CRISIS OVER CHINA

British Decision To Play Lone Hand Fires Situation

Swampscott, Mass., July 13.—President Coolidge today was facing the most important diplomatic crisis of his White House incumbency.

In the Chinese situation the executive has before him a problem of the first water, created almost overnight by the receipt of information that Great Britain is planning to play a lone hand in the orient to the exclusion of the eight other powers that are signatories to the Chinese treaty, negotiated at the Washington arms conference.

Secretary of State Kellogg, handling his first big issue on foreign policy, is back in Washington after a week end conference with the president here, under instructions to open informal discussions with the British government at once to determine just what Britain plans to do with respect to China.

Every possible step will be taken to forestall the English move, which, if carried to fulfillment, would nullify the Washington treaty. The American move to offset any such effort will involve insistence that the Washington agreement be followed to the letter.

The pact provides that, within three months after ratification, a conference of the signatories be called to discuss the possible removal of the surcharge on Chinese customs being levied at present and apportioned among the creditor nations of China. To a great extent this surcharge is responsible for existing anti-foreign sentiment in China which is jeopardizing foreign life and property.

London, July 13.—No agreement has been reached between Japan, the United States and Great Britain regarding a policy toward China. It was stated officially at the foreign office today it was said that discussions regarding the possibility and scope of a tariff conference were going on but that no decision had been reached.

In the British view, the tariff conference must precede the conference on extra territoriality, since there would be no advantage in discussing the abandonment of extra-territorial privileges by the nations interested until China has sufficient funds with which to operate the country. These funds, in the British view, would be provided by tariff revision.

Scopes And Bryan Will Lecture After Trial

Commoner Is Hero of Hour In Tennessee's Monkey Case

BY JACK LAIT

I. N. S. Special Correspondent
Dayton, Tenn., July 13.—The debate on evolution vs fundamentalism will be continued "under canvas" as soon as it is halted with the closing of the first chapter here, the trial of John T. Scopes.

Young Scopes and William Jennings Bryan will take to the chaletauquas and perhaps Clarence S. Darrow will lecture. He will at least appear in a public debate.

By an agreement between Scopes, Darrow, Neal and Malone, none of the principal figures on the evolution side of this world wide shindy is to exploit his part or in any manner profit substantially thereby while the trial lasts. Scopes refused several lucrative offers to report the case and so did Bryan.

But both have under consideration several offers to tour as soon as the verdict is reached. Bryan's calls are from the south. Scopes' are from north of the Mason-Dixon boundary.

Scopes is scarcely an orator by nature. He speaks in a soft dulcet drawl, is shy and retiring, and is a better listener than he is a spellbinder. He fraternizes with the visiting newspapermen and sits for hours, after the copy is filed and the day is over, listening wide-eyed and close mouthed at the wonder tales of the great world, of which he has seen little except on his brief journey to New York.

Even the elder Scopes, his father, has been approached with a bid to travel and exhibit himself, somewhat as the father of Floyd Collins, the young man who was imprisoned in Sand cave, is doing. But this is an academic matter. No great physical tragedy or poignant human drama is to be described. Yet promoters regard this "monkey trial" as having box office appeal.

Bryan stands forth in the view of this neighborhood as the hero of the hour. It is conceded that he "made" the Scopes case, and that its issues would not have engaged the universal interest had not the commoner hurled himself into it and cried to the wide heavens, that revealed religion was being assaulted.

So far Bryan's voice has not been heard in the courtroom beyond a cough. But every telegraph wire and every cable in the land vibrates with his words, nevertheless. He has set out to prove that mankind is being crucified upon a cross of agnosticism and that the crown of infidelity is being pressed upon the brow of Christianity.

Never in the history of this republic has been there so open and definite stand of politics, religion and education, hand in hand.

Bryan, who has held one of the highest offices in the nation and who was twice candidate for the highest and still thinks he is a candidate for it, makes no effort to disguise this point, that the law must rally to the defense of revealed religion and fundamental Christianity.

He adds that by Christianity he means all religions, for Jew and Gentile are equally interested. He refers to the United States as a "Christian nation," for when he mentions the Jews he also names the Roman Catholics. He regards the Bible as written into the law of the land—at least written into the law of Tennessee, the one on which Scopes is being tried, and he wants that law or the substance of it incorporated into the constitution of the United States.

When he enters the courtroom he is applauded and Judge Raulston's gavel and his whispered "tut tut" over the indecorum are about as seriously taken as they are seriously intended.

Anyway this section of Tennessee would sooner secede from the Union than have the Union take from it its house bill 185—and if that statute is nationally unconstitutional, this county would vote almost to a man and absolutely to a woman to nullify the constitution and leave house bill 185.

CLOSED CAR SALES BREAK RECORD IN JUNE SAYS DEALER

June was another record-breaking month for Hudson and Essex cars, with business good and public demand exceedingly active, according to N. N. Hunter, Hudson-Essex dealer.

"This will prove the sixth successive month in which all previous totals of Hudson and Essex business are surpassed," said Mr. Hunter.

"Starting with January of this year, Hudson-Essex started in the habit of breaking records. In each month since then it has bettered all former marks.

"In so doing, Hudson-Essex has become the largest and most popular line of six-cylinder cars which this or any other year ever knew.

The more than 100,000 cars which have been made and sold this first six months of 1925 would be in fact a most handsome output for an entire year. But the public demand for the cars which has called for this volume is on the increase and still greater Hudson-Essex marks may be looked for in the last half of the year.

"The reason behind this extraordinary record of vital interest.
There is no one single feature of Hudson-Essex construction on which public interest has centered; but there is an all-around standard of well-balanced value which we considered unmatched elsewhere—and apparently the public agrees with us.

"The question of delivering cars is a most serious one. We are actually unhappy when business is so active that owners cannot obtain cars as quickly as they want them.

We realize that when a man wants a motor car he wants it at once, and we bend every possible effort to accommodate him, even when there is a country-wide shortage such as we have seen this spring.

"With this feeling on our part, and with the Hudson-Essex plant working night and day, we are making every effort to deliver cars promptly.

This is not always possible, but we do make every effort. It would help a great deal if motorists would place their orders a little ahead of the day they actually want it. That would avoid disappointments."

SUES SCHOOL BOARD
Defiance, July 13.—Suits to compel the school board of Delaware township to provide transportation for his crippled daughter, Bernadette, B. have been brought in common pleas court here by Peter Weaner, farmer, of Delaware township. Weaner is seeking to recover $325 for services in transport-the transportation in the future. For two years and a half, brothers and sisto school more than a mile away in a small express wagon. The board charges that the child was exposed to storms and suffered frost bitten feet and refuses to carry out its agreement with Weaner to allow him fifty cents a day for such transportation.

COLLEGIANS BEAT YELLOW SPRINGS

Harshman's Medway Collegians went on a batting rampage and experienced little difficulty in defeating the Yellow Springs Colored Giants by a score of 15 to 4 Sunday afternoon at the Harshman diamond. Had-dix allowed eleven hits but kept the blows scattered.

The Collegians piled up a commanding lead of ten runs in the first four innings before the visiting team scored.

Gordon, Harshman third sacker, proved to be the batting star of the game with two triples and a pair of singles, besides pilfering four sacks.

EXCAVATION WORK NEARS COMPLETION IN NEW CITY PARK

Excavation work on the lagoon in Shawanoes Park, in the Dodds Addition, will probably be completed this week and the water turned in. It is announced by officials of the Xenia Recreation Association under whose direction work of developing the tract is progressing rapidly.

Favored by generally good weather, excavation work has not been halted only at long intervals. With the lagoon finished and fed with water from the natural stream that intersects the acreage, work will have been completed on the principal beauty spot of the new park.

Grading work on the tract is going forward steadily, it is announced.

T. H. Zell, president of the association, announced that an offer has been made by Company L. Band to give a public concert in the park this summer as an added attraction. Services of the band have been donated.

Officials of the association expressed the belief the new park would be adaptable for future band concerts that would stimulate public interest.

SEVEN CANDIDATES FOR COMMISSION TO RESULT IN PRIMARY

Seven candidates had filed petitions for nomination for the city commission with Earl Short, clerk of the board of elections, when the books closed Saturday at midnight, assuring a primary election in August.

Six of this number will be nominated at the primary and three of the six chosen will be elected at the regular November election to fill three vacancies on the City Commission.

The four additional candidates who entered the race at a late hour Saturday are Karl R. Babb, member of the firm of Babb's hardware store; James G. Cowan, engineer on the Pennsylvania Railroad; Perry A. Alexander, North King Street, retired farmer, and Charles H. Russell, colored, proprietor of the Russell Cleaning and Dyeing Company.

Judge H. L. Smith, S. M. McKay and John W. Prugh, retiring members of the commission are the remaining candidates for re-election.

Earl Short, clerk of the board, announced Monday a meeting of the Board will probably be called soon for the purpose of letting contracts for ballots and various supplies for the primary.

NEW YORK PASTORS TALK ON EVOLUTION

New York, July 13.—The anti-evolution law trial at Dayton, Tenn., was the inspiration for special sermons delivered from many of Gotham's pulpits Sunday.

Church goes heard William Jennings Bryan upbraided and defended, heard the trial described as "farical", "silly" and "nonsensical" and listened to still other sermons in which the state of Tennessee was denounced as ignoring progress and its legislature likened to Robespierre "who attempted to enforce virtue by use of the guillotine."

YOUTHS ARRESTED IN MURDERER HUNT

Albany, N. Y., July 13.—While one of the greatest manhunts in northern New York was in progress today for Philip Knapp, son of a wealthy Syracuse family, wanted in connection with the slaying of a Long Island taxicab driver, two youths were held in this section for further investigation.

They gave the names of Frank J. Trimmer of Rochester, and John Kavanaugh of New York. Trimmer was locked up in the Troy Jail. Police say he was carrying a .45 calibre revolver when arrested. Kavanaugh was held because the police said, he bore a striking resemblance to Knapp.

ATHLETES GOOD AT SCHOLASTIC WORK

Delaware, O., July 13.—Ohio Wesleyan athletes made an unusual scholarship record during the last semester, with only two varsity athletes failing to pass enough work to be eligible for athletic competition for the coming year, grade reports issued here today at the registrar's office show.

William Turney, Delaware and E. "Buck" Lamme, Ostrander, are each ineligible because of scholarship deficiencies in a single subject.

JOHN FLUNKED HIS FRENCH—MUST WORK

Plymouth, Vt., July 13.—Persons hereabouts have been wondering why young John C. Coolidge has been laboring so diligently at shingling roofs and doing other homely chores while his college mates are enjoying themselves at various summer resorts.

One reason therefore leaked out today. John flunked his French course at college.

SHED BURNS

Fire, believed to have been caused by children carelessly playing with matches entirely destroyed a shed owned by John Reed, Trumbull Street, at 2:50 o'clock Sunday afternoon causing about $75 damage. The loss is not covered by insurance.

The shed burned to the ground before firemen could extinguish the blaze.

LARGE CROWDS GREET OPENING PROGRAMS OF REDPATH CHAUTAUQUA HERE SUNDAY

THE PROGRAM
Monday evening
Gounod's celebrated grand opera
"Faust."
As produced by Milton Aborn.
Tuesday Morning.
"A Glimpse of the Orient."
Dr. J. G. McMurty.
"My Own Interpretation of the Twenty-third Psalm."
Dr. J. G. McMurty.
Tuesday Evening.
Comedy-drama—"Not So Fast."
With a New York cast.

The opening programs of the 1925 Redpath Chautauqua were attended by a large crowd, Sunday afternoon and evening. Hundreds of Chautauqua followers were attracted by the inaugural programs, despite the intense heat of the day.

The Columbia Girls Quartet was the main feature of the day, appearing on both the afternoon and evening programs. The evening Chautauqua program followed the union city church service, when the Rev. F. W. Stanton, pastor of the First M. E. Church, preached.

Hon. Elwood Bailey, of San Diego, Calif., delivered a forceful lecture following the church service and concert. He brought out many strong points and held his audience with his personality, showing his acquaintance with his subject.

Good music is always one of the strong points on the Chautauqua programs and is especially emphasized this year. Another musical program, out of the ordinary for local audiences, was given Monday afternoon when Martha Scott appeared in a skit on "Musical Appreciation." She was accompanied at the piano by Herbert McFarren, and she handled a theme which was well liked by music lovers and other members of the audience.

The Monday afternoon program was a part of "Opera Day" on the week's program, and Miss Scott's discussion of the proper appreciation of the operas, was a forerunner to the presentation of the famous opera "Faust," Monday evening. Miss Scott discussed voices, roles, costumes, color and lighting in musical drama, leading to a better understanding of the best music.

Gounod's celebrated grand opera, "Faust," as produced by Milton Aborn, one of the main features of this year's program, will be presented Monday night.

The opera will be offered by a cast of principals organized and coached by Milton Aborn in New York City. The theme is a familiar one to those acquainted with the theater and is thought to be an attraction to hundreds to the Chautauqua tent Monday.

Dr. J. G. McMurty, dean of Colorado College, world traveler and a foremost Greek scholar, will offer his own interpretation of the Twenty-third Psalm at the Tuesday afternoon program. He will also appear Tuesday morning for an address on "A Glimpse of the Orient." His description of foreign lands are said to be particularly vivid.

The first of the two comedy successes that have played over the country after New York runs, will be presented Tuesday evening, when a New York cast will give "Not So Fast." There is said to be genuine comedy in this three-act play. The central figure is "Watt" Blake, christened "the blimp," because he is slowly cautious. But he is a Kentucky thoroughbred and not as slow as he acts. His droll philosophy is said to be wholesome and humorous. The cast is all-professional.

The first meeting of the Junior Town Citizens of this year was held in the Chautauqua tent Monday morning at 9 o'clock. The meeting was called to order by Miss Doris Standish and the Junior Citizens reviewed their songs and yells. They also repeated their motto which is "I Am Proud of My Town, My Town is Proud of Me."

The election of the officers followed and Richard Ross was elected mayor; Emily Dean, town clerk and Doris McCormick, news reporter. The election will be resumed Tuesday morning.

Miss Standish played several victrola records and told a story. The meeting adjourned into an informal "party" and the boys did stunts while the girls practiced several dances. Miss Marie Meahl assisted Miss Standish in teaching the dances.

Miss Gertrude Voelker, New Eagle, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. Earl Gannon, of Orange Street. This is Miss Voelker's first visit to Ohio.

Mr. Ellsworth Huston, 237 West Church Street, who is employed in Michigan City, Ind., is spending two weeks' vacation at his home here.

BOWERSVILLE BEATS SPRINGFIELD NINE BY HEAVY HITTING

Air-tight twirling by Shadley cuppled with timely hitting enabled the Bowersville Bayliffs to defeat the Springfield Tigers by a score of 10 to 1 Sunday afternoon on the Bowersville diamond.

The Bayliffs went on a batting rampage in the second inning, three hits including a home run, scoring six runs. Recovering their batting eye, the first two batters in the inning singled. An error filled the bases but an attempt to score on a fielder's choice failed. A hit batter forced in the first run and Leahey's liner between left and center for four bases cleared the sacks.

The visitors scored their only run in the second on a triple and an out at first. The Bayliffs added a run in the fifth and three in the eighth on a homer by D. Shadley. Shadley pitched strong game for the Bayliffs allowing but four scattered hits besides fanning seven. The Bayliffs will play the Home City Tramps of Springfield next Sunday afternoon at Bowersville.

Score by Innings:
Springfield.. 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 3
Bowersville.. 6 0 0 1 0 0 3 10 9 2
Batteries: Springfield:—O'Connell, Walker and Pitt; Bowersville:—Shadley and Murrell.

HOURS FARMER WORKS DON'T AFFECT INCOME IS DETERMINED HERE

The hours a farmer works nowadays has nothing to do with his profit, the records of farmers themselves indicate.

Of a group of twenty Greene County farmers who have kept farm records for the past three years in co-operation with rural economists at the Ohio State University, those who put in the longest hours did not make any more money than those who averaged only six hours a day.

"Three men who worked an average of 11.2 hours for every week-day in the year," reports F. L. Morison, the university economist making this study, "made labor incomes averaging $394 a year, while three others who worked only 5.8 hours a day made labor incomes averaging $395 a year."

"Looking at it another way, the three farmers who made the highest labor incomes in this group averaged $1048 a year and worked 9.6 hours a day. The three at the bottom of the list, with labor incomes averaging minus $376, worked 9.5 hours a day."

"It was not the extra six minutes of work each day that made the difference in income, but largely that the more prosperous group got a return of $1.26 for each dollar's worth of feed given to livestock, while the men with the low incomes received only 97 cents from each dollar invested in feed. Those making the better incomes also had corn yields averaging 5.4 bushels more than an acre than those with the minus labor incomes."

MICHAEL'S MARRIAGE

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER 93.

Michael stood regarding the housekeeper aghast.

"I was down in the basement, and over in a corner was a pile of paper, where we throw the things from out the wastepaper baskets for John to build fires," she began breathlessly, in a tragic tone. And I noticed this little spot of green, and something just told me, Mr. Michael, that maybe it was one of the bonds. And I reached down, and pulled out the package, and here they are!"

She looked from face to face to view the astonishment provoked by her announcement. Her countenance changed when she met the eyes of Mother Pharley.

"They must have fallen into your wastepaper basket, Mrs. Michael," she added hastily, "and got thrown out."

"You always empty the wastepaper baskets, Sally," Lillah responded, taking the bonds.

"Yes-um, Mrs. Michael. I'm sorry. I don't look through the paper that's in the baskets—I just suppose it's all trash. I will after this."

Lillah sought Michael's eye. They were intent upon Sally.

"I don't know whether you are to blame, Sally, but I think this will teach you a lesson," he said.

"Yes, Mr. Michael," she tried to smile. "Just think of all that money laying there. And just think, John might have made a fire with them, not knowing what they were."

"I know you'll be more careful in the future, Sally," Michael said, with a tone of dismissal.

"I certainly will. Well, I'm glad you found them. It certainly would have been awful if they had been burned." She hurried out, nervously.

Both women regarded Michael. Mother Pharley was the first to speak.

"Well! Do you believe all that Michael?"

"I do," he answered with some hesitancy. "It's quite possible, and entirely probable. Lillah here probably got them mixed up with stuff she was going to throw away, and into the basket they went. Of course Sally doesn't look at all the—"

"I didn't!"

"Dearest! You never have liked Sally, and now you're willing to let your prejudice against her convince you she is guilty of this theft. Sally wouldn't do anything like that. I know she wouldn't." His certainty was in his eyes.

"All right, dear, it's up to you," Lillah responded, with a supercilious note.

"Well, let's let the matter drop right here. The bonds are found. I know that you'll see to it that they are placed in the trust company's hands tomorrow."

Mother Pharley put in a question: "What trust company?"

"That," Michael answered, "is up to Lillah. It is her money, to do with as she pleases." He placed extra emphasis on this latter sentence, for a reason that is plain. The effect was not lost on Mother Pharley. Lillah smiled.

"The elder woman sniffed. 'Well, you can be sure that she won't have it long.' With that she picked up the newspaper and left the room."

"Now that you have the bonds again, dear, I hope you won't go through with your plan to buy a car. I wish you wouldn't."
